Support Dogs Autism

Assistance Programme

The benefits of an Autism Assistance Dog can be outstanding for the whole family not just the child. The overall aim of an Autism Assistance Dog is to enable your child to increase their confidence and develop their coping mechanisms in a variety of different situations and environments. We strive towards the child not requiring the lifelong support of an Autism Assistance Dog and this is done by setting achievable goals throughout the working life of the Autism Assistance Dog.

How to express your interest?

The information day will provide you with details that are relevant to the Autism Assistance Dog Training Programme; such as eligibility, the assessment procedure and what is involved in the training programme. Where possible an existing partnership of the relevant training programme will also share their experience with potential applicants. Due to the content of information given during this time we request no children under the age of 16 years are to be present for the information day. Applications will be available to applicants that are both eligible and who wish to begin the process of applying for an Autism Assistance Dog. The application pack will include: a. Application form b. Medical declaration consent form

2. The application form, medical declaration consent form and a recent passport sized photo of the child and the parent/guardian who is to be the main dog handler need to be returned to Support Dogs by the deadline that was given on the information day. NB Applications that have been received after the given date will not be processed until the next intake of applications are due for assessment. If upon receipt of the application form, if any of the information is not completed the application will not be processed until all of the necessary information has been received. \

3. A letter of confirmation of receipt will be sent to the applicant.

4. The application is initially assessed as the first part of the procedure. A medical report will be obtained from the child's general practitioner and hospital consultant. Further reports may be obtained from any other professional person with the knowledge of the child's condition if deemed necessary. Any request for payment for these reports will be the parent/guardian's responsibility.

5. If successful following the receipt of medical reports, the parent's/guardians of the child will attend a preliminary interview at the training centre. It is essential that both parent's/guardians (if applicable) are present. The child is not required to attend this interview

6. If successful following the preliminary interview, a home visit will be arranged, this is to assess the home environment and to assess the child's behaviour when a dog is in their presence. All members of the household are to be present for this assessment.

7. If successful following the home visit, the main dog handler will be required to attend the training centre for a dog handling assessment to ensure they have the capabilities of working an assistance dog.

8. Dependent on the individual, further assessments may be required, this will be discussed on an individual basis.

9. If successful following the home assessment/further assessments, applicants will be offered a place on the Autism Assistance Dog Training Programme and placed on the official waiting list for a suitable dog to arise.

If deemed necessary provisos may be given at the point of being accepted, to ensure the criteria requirements can be met at the point of being matched with a dog. Please note the application will be withdrawn if the provisos are not met. Any changes to personal circumstances prior to commencing training may also affect the status of the application.

10. The main dog handler will be asked to complete quality of life reports prior to and following the training of the Autism Assistance Dog.

11. Once a potential dog has been identified, a match will take place. The main dog handler will initially be invited to the training centre for one day to establish the suitability of the dog.

12. If the main dog handler's match was successful, a further match will take place within the home environment to consider whether the dog is suited to the child.

13. If the match is deemed as a success, provisional training dates will be given. In the majority of cases provisional dates are confirmed at least one month prior to the training commencing. Please note in a minority of instances provisional training dates have to be cancelled and rearranged.

14. The main dog handler is required to attend the training centre for 8 days. The training will take place Monday – Friday, on the first week, and Monday – Wednesday, the second. Please note, times of training will be 10am – 3.30pm. During this time the main dog handler will be taught appropriate training methods and handling styles alongside being educated on the requirements of owning an assistance dog. A jacket assessment will be carried out on the second week to ensure the main dog handler is competent at lone working the dog in jacket.

15. A home placement will be carried out on the Thursday and Friday of the second week, to ensure the dog settles into their new environment and is exhibiting appropriate behaviour around the child. The child may be required to have consented absence from school during this time. Prior to the home placement the main dog handler is to ensure the dog has adequate pet insurance and provide a copy of the certificate to Support Dogs.

16. Following the successful placement of the dog, attachment work will be carried out for the following two weeks. A minimum of 5 attachment visits will be arranged throughout this time. The child will be required for all of these visits so will need consented absence from school.

17. Further training may be required, this is discussed and arranged with individual teams.

18. The main dog handler will be asked to continue completing the quality of life reports throughout the dogs training.

19. All teams will complete at least 6 months as an 'in training' partnership and the dog must be reliable in their specific role prior to being considered for the graduation. The graduation involves having an assessment in a restricted environment, to assess the dog's behaviour and the handling skills of the main dog handler. The child is required to be present in order for the assessor to consider the dog's role during attachment work. If successful, the team will be considered as a fully registered support dog team.

20. Upon successful completion of the assessment, the appropriate paperwork will be completed; this includes a licence agreement where the main dog handler will consent to the terms and conditions.

21. A progress report is to be completed for the first 6 months. Following this, a review will take place to ensure the team is still working to the standard required of a fully registered support dog team.

22. Further to the 6 month review, teams are required to have an annual assessment. The location of this assessment will be dependent on the circumstances of individual teams. The child will be required to be present for this assessment.

23. Continued support and extra training will be given throughout the dog's working life
